Problem Statement: Students are frustrated because they are using more money on eating out due to the lack of cooking skills. Our solution should provide a way to access recipes using the ingredients/groceries in their immediate area.

Who is experiencing the problem?

Anyone with little or no experience cooking (particularly young college students.)

What is the problem?

Users cannot find recipe's, or recipes with local ingredients.

Where does the problem present itself?

College Dorms/Other student housing, anyone with little cooking experience.

Why does it matter?

Students/people need a way to cook and provide for themselves without eating out all the time.
